

Some remarks on a system modelling chemotaxis

ROBERT STAŃCZY

Instytut Matematyczny, Uniwersytet Wrocławski

`stanczr@math.uni.wroc.pl`

Some results concerning self-similar radial solutions for a system of chemotaxis are proved. Our approach is based on a fixed point analysis for an appropriate integral operator acting on a suitably defined convex subset of some cone in the space of bounded and continuous functions. These solutions are of additional interest, since they describe asymptotic profiles of arbitrary solutions for the chemotaxis model with small mass.